

THE OFFICE OF THE UNITED NATIONS
HIGH COMMISSIONER FOR HUMAN RIGHTS and
PANNASASTRA UNIVERSITY OF CAMBODIA

Present

“Challenges in Defending the Mass Atrocity Case”

Speaker: Counsel ANG Udom, Defence Co-Lawyer

Extraordinary Chambers in the Courts of Cambodia (ECCC)

joined by his International Partner, Defence Co-Lawyer Mr. Michael KARNAVAS

A 30-Minute Public Lecture in Khmer with English translation followed by Q&A

Date and Time: 27 October 2011, 3:30 – 5:00 PM

Venue: PUC Srey Dim Conference Hall (No. 184, Norodom Blvd.)

HOSTED BY THE FACULTY OF LAW AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS AND PUC LEGAL CLINIC

Mr. ANG Udom (Cambodian Co-Lawyer) worked as a criminal defence lawyer at the Cambodian Defenders Project and the Legal Aid of Cambodia. Mr ANG has managed his own law firm since 1999 and from 2006, has been Head of the Legal Unit at the Center for Social Development. He has been a member of the Bar Association of the Kingdom of Cambodia since 1997. He is currently serving as Defence Co-Lawyer in Defence Support Section at the Extraordinary Chamber in Court of Cambodia.

OPEN TO THE PUBLIC!

About the International Justice and Human Rights Legacy Lecture Series: The International Justice and Human Rights Legacy Lecture Series is a series of lectures co-organized by the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights – Cambodia Country Office and the Pannasastra School of Law and Public Policy. The aim of the series is to draw upon the expertise of staff working at the ECCC to foster broader public discussion about contemporary international justice and human rights issues. The first lecture was given by International Co-Prosecutor Andrew Cayley on 30 June 2011, the second by H.E Chea Leang on 19 August and the third one by Justice Silvia Cartwright on 15 September, 2011. Highlights from the lectures will be made publicly available after the series is complete.