Media and the Elections: Updated Statistics

(23 July 1998) The following updates the report on the media of 25 June of the Special Representative for Human Rights in Cambodia.

Attached are the results of the monitoring of the main newscasts on Cambodian radio and television. The figures provided are only for newscasts and do not include the party spots and roundtable discussions required by National Election Committee regulations.

Two charts are attached: 1) the month of June for state and quasi-state (stations jointly owned by government and private companies) television and radio, and 2) the first two weeks of July of the privately-owned Apsara and Bayon television and radio stations.

The charts show the number of appearances of party politicians from the largest parties in the main newscasts of these stations. On state and quasi-state television and radio stations in June members of the Cambodian People's Party appeared a total of 918 times, members of the Reastr Niyum Party 182 times, members of FUNCINPEC 39 times and members of the Sam Rainsy Party 19 times. Since the beginning of July state television (TVK) and radio (National Radio) have reduced the lengths of their newscasts significantly and reported on different political parties in a more impartial manner. Both have been broadcasting party spots and roundtable discussions on an equal basis for all parties which have chosen to take part, in accordance with National Election Committee regulations.

During the first two weeks of July on Apsara and Bayon radio and television stations, members of the Cambodian People's Party appeared a total of 446 times, members of the Reastr Niyum Party 8 times, members of FUNCINPEC 6 times and members of the Sam Rainsy Party 9 times.

For reasons of comparison the coverage of H.M. the King and H.M. the Queen is also included.
